ELECTION CASE DECIDED.

Regular Republican Nominees in Bell County Have Won—Decision of the Court of Appeals

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 1.—The election contest case from Bell county, involving the offices of county clerk, attorney, superintendent of schools and jailer, was decided by the court of appeals yesterday in favor of the republican nominees winning against the independent republicans in every contest except for county clerk.

In the latter case the court holds that there was no "fair and free election," because the name and device of Creek, the independent candidate, was placed on the ballot in such a way as to deceive and confuse the voter, and, therefore, there was no election at all for creek, and another election must be held.

REVENGE TAXES.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 1.—The state board of equalization made a partial report Wednesday summarizing its work and comparing it with last year. JOHN I. WINTER, THE DEERING AGENT, MAYSVILLE, KY.

GEN. OTIS' FORCES

The President Does Not Contemplate Increasing Them to Any Extent at Present.

NO VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED NOW.

The Returning Volunteers in the Philippine Islands Will Be Relieved by the Regular Soldiers.

Nothing Has Been Received From Gen. Otis Indicating That He Needs More Troops—With the 10th Infantry 25,000 Men.

WASHINGTON, June 1.— The president Wednesday declared to a caller that there was not at present any contemplation of largely increasing Gen. Otis' forces in the Philippines. He said that nothing had been received from Gen. Otis which indicated the necessity for more troops beyond the regulars who are to be sent to relieve the retiring volunteers. The president added that if additional reinforcements became necessary, they would be promptly furnished. A despatch from Gen. Otis had advised him that they could furnish regiments in short order if occasion required. But at the same time the president expressed his belief and confidence that necessity for mustering in additional volunteers in accordance with the authority granted by the army reorganization bill would not be wise.

Secretary Alger was with the president for most of the time of the interview.

When he left the white house, he denied that Gen. Otis had said Tuesday that 30,000 troops would be necessary. Gen. Otis, said he, had been notified from time that all the troops he considered necessary would be supplied to him and not a word of complaint had come from him. "Wednesday morning I cabled to Otis giving him definite information as to the number of regulars he would have after the volunteers were withdrawn. In view of such information, he delayed at once by the stranding of the transport Meade, he will have 35,000 regulars. We have absolutely no reason to believe that Gen. Otis will require more troops than we can furnish without enlisting volunteers."

WERE ACQUITTED.

Deroulede and Marcel-Habert Not Guilty of Inciting Soldiers to Insubordination.

AN UPROAR CREATED IN THE COURT.

M. Deroulede Announced That He Would Not Cease Any Attempt to Overthrow Parliamentarianism.

Great Temps Followed, and "Bravo" Were Heard on All Sides—Sticks and Hats Were Waved and the Judge Ordered the Court Cleared.

PARIS, June 1.—M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert, who have been on trial before the assize court here on the charge of inciting soldiers to insubordination in connection with the election of President Loubet, were acquitted Wednesday.

The advocate general made the speech for the prosecution, and so do vehemently denounced the remarks made Tuesday by MM. Beaupaire and Herve, to the apparent displeasure of the audience, who frequently interrupted him.

In the course of M. Faure's defense of Gen. Herre he read a newspaper criticism of the general and M. Deroulede rising, shouted: "That is treason."

The president of the court interrupted M. Deroulede, saying: "I have been lenient with you. You must be silent."

M. Deroulede, however, continued to declaim, and concluded by turning to the judge and shouting: "Now arrest me! Shut me up! For I will not cease my attempt to overthrow parliamentarianism!"

A great tumult followed these statements.

"Bravos" were heard on all sides, sticks and hats were waved and the judge ordered the court to be cleared.

An officer of the republican guard urged M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert to leave, whereupon the latter came to his rescue, raised his cane, attempted to strike the officer and shouted: "You are a scoundrel!"

The whole audience joined in the uproar, which was continued until the police succeeded in clearing the court.

After the jury had pronounced the acquittal of M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert the audience arose in mass and invaded the dock, the jury boxes and other reserved parts of the courtroom, shouting "Vive Deroulede!" "Vive le jury!" and singing the Mar-saline.

M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert shook hands with every one, and finally M. Deroulede mounted a table and called for cheers for the jury.

As the republican guards led M. Deroulede out of the court room he was heard uttering threats as to his future action.

After their release M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert proceeded to the offices of the League of Patriots, where they harangued their followers. There were slight demonstrations in the streets and the popular assembly drew new recruits who were shouting "Abas Panama!" The crowds attempted to rescue them but were quickly dispersed.

ATTACKED BY A MAD HORSE.

A Four-Months-Old Baby Trampled to Death and Its Father Received Probably Fatal Wounds.

CHICAGO, June 1.—John Lind and his 4-month-old son, Raymond, were attacked by a vicious horse in his barn Wednesday afternoon. The child was trampled to death and Lind received injuries which it is thought will prove fatal. Lind, carrying the baby in his arms, entered the stall occupied by the horse, and the animal attacked them, biting and kicking savagely.

Then broke loose from the stall. Lind was forced to hold the door by a stick in his right hand to keep the horse, which rendered him unconscious. The child fell from its father's arms and rolled under the hoofs of the animal to be trampled into a shapeless mass.

It was with difficulty that the corpse of the child and the unconscious body of Lind were rescued from the stall.

A FATAL TORNADO IN MISSION.

ROCKPORT, Mass., June 1.—Three tornadoes swept through different parts of this county. One child was killed and several persons were injured so badly that they can not live. Jessup, Md., June 1.—Mason Tubb, a 20-year-old farmer, was shot dead Wednesday night by his 15-year-old son George. The son, who had been hiding, announced that he had committed the crime to shield his mother from his father's abuse.

BIMETALLISTS MEET.

Third Annual Session of the League of the Bimetallic Club of the Ohio Valley Open at Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 1.—The advocates of bimetallism look to Louisville as their headquarters. The third annual session of the League of Bimetallic Clubs of the Ohio Valley was formally opened at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at MacAuley's theater. The auditorium was crowded when President Tarvin's gavel fell, although the vanguard only of the host that is coming has arrived.

The local committees on arrangements had left nothing undone. The theater was beautifully decorated in the national colors. The session of the League of Bimetallic Clubs of the Ohio Valley was formally opened at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at MacAuley's theater. The auditorium was crowded when President Tarvin's gavel fell, although the vanguard only of the host that is coming has arrived.

Ex-Gov. John P. Altgeld, of Illinois; George Fred Williams and ex-Congressman John Drinker, of Massachusetts; and ex-Congressman E. B. Finley, of Ohio, were among the arrivals at noon.

Every train that arrived brought more delegates and visitors and reporters. About 1,000 persons were in attendance, a record number of visitors and delegates who will be in the city when the convention gets down to real working order Thursday will not be short of 10,000.

When everything was in readiness for the opening of the convention Mayne Weaver advanced to the footlights and in a few well chosen words welcomed the delegates to the city, concluding by extending to them the keys of the city.

President Tarvin responded in behalf of the visiting metalists and was greeted with generous bursts of applause as he began his speech which initiated the proceedings of the convention.

Ex-Senator J. C. S. Blackburn was present Wednesday afternoon but was detained at home on account of the serious illness of his wife.

Following Judge Tarvin, Congressman James M. Robinson, of Indiana, made an impromptu speech.

The convention then adjourned until 7:30 p.m.

The delegates were late in reassembling for the evening session, and it was after 8 o'clock before the convention got down to business. President Tarvin introduced Hon. Flavius J. Van Vorhis of Indianapolis, whom he had given 40 years of his life in befriending the principles of the republicans.

After the jury had pronounced the acquittal of M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert the audience arose in mass and invaded the dock, the jury boxes and other reserved parts of the courtroom, shouting "Vive Deroulede!" "Vive le jury!" and singing the Mar-saline.

There were slight demonstrations in the streets and the popular assembly drew new recruits who were shouting "Abas Panama!" The crowds attempted to rescue them but were quickly dispersed.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Van Vorhis was heartily congratulated by many on the platform. President Tarvin then introduced Hon. D. S. Oliver, of Cincinnati, who presented ex-Gov. John P. Altgeld, of Illinois.

The greatest enthusiasm prevailed when the Illinois statesman was honored by the audience when he arose to address the convention.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Bonanza passed down from Pomeroy yesterday.

The Keystone State will pass up tonight to the Ohio River.

The Avon for the headwaters of Kanawha passed up last night.

The City of Pittsburgh passed down this morning for Louisville.

The Henry M. Study goes to Kanawha river via the Ohio river.

The J. H. McConnell will pass down with thirteen strings of timber for Louisville.

There is an ugly spot in the river just below Eagle Creek. It is an old tree with the top off and lays with the dangerous end down the river. A towboat runs a sharp there one day last week.

There's a good substantial resuce coming out of the Allegheny which will assure packet water for the Ohio river, and when that was anticipated by the market lines all towboats will now get to Pittsburgh.

The river traffic of Louisville has made a wonderful increase lately, there being no room left at the landing to allow the excursion boats to dock there, a veritable humanitatis, and there's a kick going up.

The recent sheet that left Louisville for the South was composed of 10 towboats, 10 barges, 4 boats, 25 flatboats, 26 model boats and 10 barges. The flat boats, river and manufactured iron. At least accounts the fleet was proceeding in road shape.

A company has been organized to build a bridge across the Kentucky River between a branch of the river and the state line, so that if it allowed to be built at the elevation contemplated would be quite an obstruction to navigation. The bridge will be built at a lower elevation than will be completed, except at a high elevation, and not now contemplated by the bridge company.

The Pittsburgh towboat John Morris is now on her way from the Ohio river to Louisville. She is one of the largest, if not the largest, tow of iron ever headed by one steamboat on the river. She has over 5,000 tons, which includes one hundred coal cars. All the iron of the tow was cast iron, and is bound to the Carnegie Company of Pittsburgh, and is being shipped to New Orleans for the lumber trade. The tow consists of the Morris, the George Washington, and Goss Seaford, two of the best in the business.

I wish to say that I feel under lessening obligation to my Chiropractic College because it has done so much for our family. We have used it in so many cases of cough, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction. We feel greatly relieved and comforted. I now heartily recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BAROCQ, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.
